Ice Cream Sodas, Home Style

—from the test kitchen of the American Dairy Association

Come summer, the smart mother sets up a soda fountain at home, the best of insurance for keeping the small fry within sight and for keeping close tab on teen-agers. Something might well be said for the morale-lifting effect on father, too.

Easy enough to do—tall glasses; straws; iced tea spoons or their cousins; chilled sparkling water; a variety of flavors and fruits, and of course, plenty of ice cream in the refrigerator's freezing compartment or in the freezer. Let each one make his own. They'll need no "come and get it" bell-ringing!

The idea, in general, as to the making is simply this: Into a large glass put about 1-3 cup of crushed sweetened fruit (strawberries, raspberries, peaches, apricots, pineapple) or about 3 tablespoons syrup (chocolate or maple we'll say), a scant 1-4 cup of chilled milk and a large scoop of ice cream. Then fill almost to the top with chilled sparkling water. Stir. Add straws, and serve.

For a richer "soda" stir a small scoop of ice cream into the fruit or syrup and milk mixture until creamy; then top with a full scoop of ice cream and add sparkling water.

Different flavors of ice cream can be used by way of variation, the choice depending upon the syrup, sauce, or crushed fruit used.

Cola, root beer, or gingerale sodas are good. Put a large scoop of vanilla ice cream into a large glass. Almost fill with the chilled beverage desired. Stir well. Ice cream may first be stirred into the beverage.

Fruit juices and nectars may be used in much the same way, though they're really not a true soda. A good one is made by putting a generous scoop of vanilla, pineapple, or lemon ice cream (peach ought to be good, too) into a glass. Pour ice cold pineapple juice over it. Muddle it just enough to mix the flavors slightly. Add a spoon and gay straws and then more ice cream. This makes a good light top-off to a summer meal.

For a grown-up group, you might try scoopsful of vanilla or coffee ice cream in a glass of hot coffee. The younger set will settle for chocolate milk with a scoop of chocolate or vanilla ice cream.

Ice cream, you know, is mighty good food besides being so much fun to eat. A dish of ice cream (about 2-3 cup) gives us practically the same nutrients that we get when we drink half a glass of milk. But be sure it says "ice cream" on the carton or container.

Cookies are always good with ice cream. If you're fresh out why not make these Coconut Crunchies? Remove crust from unsliced bread and cut in 3-4-inch slices, then in fingers. Roll each in sweetened condensed milk, using fork or fingers as you please, then in shredded coconut. Place on buttered cookie sheet and bake in a slightly under moderate oven (325 degrees) until the coconut is browned. So good they'll think it's cake.

Barbecued Chicken

Since we are holding a leader training meeting this week on Outdoor Cookery, I am setting out below a recipe for barbecued chicken.

Allow a half chicken per person and use either a rotisserie or the oven. If a rotisserie, put the whole chicken on the spit; adjust to turn slowly, and baste with butter or a barbecue sauce.

Here's a recommended babecue sauce especially good for chicken: 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 table spoon paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-4 teaspoon chili powder, a few grains cayenne pepper, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup tomato juice, 1-4 cup chili sauce, 1-4 cup vinegar, 1-2 cup chopped onion, and 2 tablespoons cooking oil. Combine and cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Baste over chicken as turned.

Barbecued chicken is delicious served with buttered rye bread, potato chips and a tart cole slow.

Richwood

Richwood, June 5.- "In our daily lives we very easily forget to look upward. The same beauties are in the sky, if we will only notice them. We need to recapture the joyous spirit of youth, to turn aside and once more be young in spirit."

Carver-Price School News

Hello Readers!

We wish to express our thanks to Mr. Calvin H. Robinson, Editor of The Times-Virginian, for the publication of the Carver-Price High School weekly column of news. We have learned much from this news writing activity, which is a Senior English project. Also, the business managers, Effie McCoy and Gloria Jenkins, who have sold the papers, have learned much. We shall eagerly look forward to writing our column next school year.

Commencement Exercises were held on Wednesday evening, June 6, at 8:00 P. M., which was attended by a capacity audience. Invocation was given by Rev. R. Q. Lawing. Musical selections were sung by the Choir. Orations were delivered by the three honor graduates, Roberta Lewis, Effie McCoy, and Viola Johnson. Diplomas were awarded by Principal R. E. Patrick, who also presented scholarships and awards. Roberta Lewis, Valedictorian, was awarded a $1,200.00 scholarship to Virgina Union University in Richmond. Viola Johnson, third honor student, was awarded a $125.00 scholarship to Virginia State College. Community churches, the County Teachers Association, and the Sunday School Union, made possible awards for Citizenship, Cooperation, Athletics, Leadership, and Attendance. Remarks were made by Supervisor Mozella J. Price. and Superintendent J. A. Burke. Benediction was given by Rev. N. R. Jordan. We extend our congratulations to the members of the Class of 1956.

As we close our column for the year, we can look back and feel that we have accomplished much. Noteworthy things done were:

1. The Harvest Festival.
2. The V. I. A. Basketball Tournament, Lexington, Va.
3. Crowning of "Miss Carver-Price."
4. Partricipation in the T. B. sales, March of Dimes, Red Cross.
5. Faculty Play.
6. Senior Trip to Williamsburg
7. Student Council State Meeting, Hampton, Va.
8. May Day Program.
9. Intercollegiate College Competitive Exams, Dunbar High School, Lynchburg, Va.
10. Intramural Girls Basketball, and Volleyball Tournament.
11. Oratorical Contest, Union University, Richmond.
12. Gym Night.
13. Senior Class Plays.
14. Faculty Basketball Teams.
15. Choir Recital.
16. Class Night.
17. Class Picnics.
18. 4-H Picnic, Prince Edward Lake.
19. Many interesting assemblies.

We are proud of each of these activities.

For each of our readers, we wish a pleasant summer, and to our Supervisor, Principal, and Faculty and schoolmates, a restful, enjoyable vacation.

We close with this thought for the year:

"It is not he that enters upon any career, or starts in any race, but he that runs well and perseveringly that gains the plaudits of others, or the approval of his own conscience."

"Au revoir."

Accidents

For every 16 people between the ages of 15 and 24 who died of cancer or heart disease, 61 die in accidents. In '51, polio claimed 836 children under fourteen, while 11,441 children in the same age bracket were killed in traffic accidents. In 1954, 90,000 human lives were lost—30,000 of them on streets and highways. —Survey Bulletin.

The test of a person's strength is the knowledge of his weakness. —Highways of Happiness.
